

Dear parents/carers,

I am really excited to teach your child this year and cannot wait to get started! As we are all aware, there have been many changes over the past few months and school and life have been very different. Information has already been sent out via Parentmail but I wanted to take this opportunity to let you know a little more about how school life will work in Year 4. Therefore, I have attached a few pictures so you can see how the classroom is set up.

As you can see, the tables are set up in rows and all children will be facing the front; this is for the safety of the staff and children. However, they will still learn through an exciting and broad curriculum. During the autumn term, our topic is called 'Survivor'. I am really looking forward to delving deep into the lives of volcanoes and earthquakes with some other surprises along the way!

If possible, please do not share these pictures with your child before their first day back as I would love them to experience the surprise on Wednesday and together we will learn how school life will now work. However, if your child is feeling anxious and you feel it may help them, then please do so.

I am very much looking forward to teaching your child this year. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

Miss Brown
